

The Bailey Tree

(Resolution 5486, October 12, 1997)

Tucked away behind a young oak grove in Phillip C Cohn Park, stands the Bailey Tree. Nominated by Folsom resident Bill Bailey in 1997, this magnificent valley oak (Quercus lobata) and its even larger sibling, the Bergst Tree, are estimated to be approximately 300 years old and are believed to be among the largest of their species within the City of Folsom.
